PATENT SELF ADJUSTING

CANDLE SHADES.

MESSRS. WOODWORTH,

SUCCESSORS TO JOSEPH BONFANTI,

325 BROADWAY,

Beg leave to inform their customers and the public generally, that they have, by the last arrivals from France, received a new Patent Apparatus, which has obtained in Europe the most decided success, not only as a Reflector of Great Power, but also as a valuable PRESERVER OF THE SIGHT—it is there known under the name of the

REFLECTEUR MOBILE,

—OR—

MOVEABLE REFLECTOR.

This truly ingenious, but most simple contrivance, which imparts a threefold brilliancy to the light, requires no management or attention whatever, as the shade, by its own weight merely resting on a slide, follows the gradual decrease of the candle as it burns, without causing it to run in the slightest degree.

In addition to this beautiful article, which from its acknowledged utility, great ingenuity, and moderate price, (Fifty Cents, each) must obtain general favor and get into universal use with all classes.

Messrs. W, continue as heretofore to keep a rich and beautiful assortment of

FANCY GOODS,

PARISIAN NOVELTIES AND CURIOSITIES.

To which they are constantly adding by each arrival from France, and they flatter themselves that the most fastidious tastes can here be suited.

Dealers and others supplied with the Patent Shades at a liberal discount, and orders from any part of the country promptly attended to.

S. H. S. & F. A. WOODWORTH,
